Looking to track your order?

With our Funky Lenses Customer Accounts, tracking your orders has never been easier. Simply log in and go to your 'Order History' tab to select the order you wish to track.

If you do not have a customer account, or if your order is not visible for any reason (see our 'Issues with my customer account' article), you can always refer to your confirmation email. This email should have been sent to you upon completion of your order and contains your order tracking number. You can use this number on our Tracking page to immediately find out where your order is.

If you cannot find your order information, contact us at support@funktylenses.com, and we will look into your order tracking. PLEASE NOTE: tracking information varies due to different couriers and locations. We are not responsible for third-party courier systems.
